

Christof Mauch (ed.): Nature in German History. Oxford: Berghahn Books 2004, vii + 136 S., 30 ill., ISBN 1-57181-438-8, GBP 25,00.

Preface	vii
Introduction: Nature and Nation in Transatlantic Perspective Christof Mauch	1
CHAPTER 1 "Conquests from Barbarism": Taming Nature in Frederick the Great's Prussia David Blackbourn	10
CHAPTER 2 The Political Ecology of the Rhine Marc Cioc	31
CHAPTER 3 Landscape as History: Pückler-Muskau, The "Green Prince" of Germany Linda Parshall	48
CHAPTER 4 All of Germany a Garden? Changing Ideas of Wilderness in German Garden Design and Landscape Architecture Joachim Wolschke-Bulmahn	74
CHAPTER 5 For Nation and Prosperity, Health and a Green Environment: Protecting Nature in West Germany, 1945-1970 Sandra Chaney	93
CHAPTER 6 Waldsterben : The Construction and Deconstruction of an Environmental Problem Franz-Josef Brüggemeier	119
Index	132